There was a little social spurt in town this last week. The summer season being finished at the resorts, people were passing through en route to their various country homes in the vicinity. One met Colonel and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, Miss Goelet, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. Foxhall Keene, James J. Van Alen, Craig Wadsworth, Harry Payne Whitney and numerous others. The clubs are well filled at present, and the masculine ele-ment is more difficult to obtain for week end parties or for stays of a longer period. But these social swallows do not make a season. They are only birds of passage, and it will be some weeks yet before there will be any large representation of the fashionable world in town. The first nights at the theatres and the performances since have shown very few familiar faces among the modish sets.

The winter season will be late. It will begin with the opera, which does not open until nearly Christmas. The Horse Show will attract many people to town for the week, but the country will be the popular place of residence until after Thanksgiving. Much is expected of the season owing to the great number of debutantes. The only flates fixed so far for entertainments have been those of the two assemblies at the Astoria have been those of the two assembiles at the Astoria and the meetings of the various dancing classes. These were arranged and published in the early spring. There will not be so many fashionable people going abroad for the winter, but there will be a rush about Lent. The suburban season, which is supposed to abound in informal entertainments, which are quite the reverse, has aiready begun. The next ten days will see the different neighborhoods of Long Island, Westchester and the Hudson in full swing. The amusements will be those of the open, a fad which has been taken up this summer with much success.

There is no time in the year when there are fewer social happenings than in late September and the beginning of October. The Newport sea son has closed. This coming week will see only a few meets of the hounds, and one or two small tertainments. Mrs. Astor has announced her ast luncheon. Colonel and Mrs. John Jacob Astor have gone to Perncilff. Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs is at the Hot Springs of Virginia. Mrs. Ogden Mills is at Stantsburg, where she is giving the first of her house parties, and Miss May Goeiet is one of her guests. Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry are at their country seat on the Delaware. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dolan have returned to Pennsyl-vania.

Of those who remain at Newport, Mrs. Stuyves ant Fish will leave there this week. Mrs. Aster remains only until Saturday, and when she closes Beechwood, the Misses Van Alen will come to town with her. Alfred G. Vanderbilt will remain fernelius Vanderbilt, jr., although Mr. Vanderbilt has been in town for several days in the week.
Mrs. French and Miss French go next week to Tuxedo. Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, fr., are preparing to open their town house, and they will be settled there by October. The Harry Payse,

But as far as entertaining is concerned there is very little going on there, and in fact much less than at Newport.

The amusements this week will be confined to suburban incidents, in which the horse will play an important role. The amateur horse show at Lenox was such a success that Tuxedo will have one of like character. Lorillard Ronalds and T. Suffern Tailer have been arranging a very atfusedo cottagers are nearly all at home this popuer suburb will be quite gay. At White Plains, at the end of the week, there is the annual fair and show. In fact, these two affairs are the only important gatherings if the week. There will be the usual golf matches and some impromptu tennis at Morristowa, Ardsley sed Tuxelo.

The golf matrices will lead n next week at the Ho Eprings of Virginia, and the hotel is well filler Mrs. Stuyvesout Fish and party will arrive ther about the middle of the week.

THE FINALITY OF PINK PAPER.

CHIEF DEVERY SAYS THAT POLICEMEN MUST BE POLITE, AND HE MEANS IT.

It was said of Draco that he wrote his laws not in ink, but in blood. See how the world has de-generated. When Chief Devery means what he says he writes his laws on pink paper. There is nothing new about the use of paper of different colors with different shades of meaning. Years ago the street conductors used to "punch, brothers, punch with care, a pink trip slip for a 6-cent fare and a green trip slip for a three-cent fare," or something of that sort. But now it is:

Club, brothers, club with care, But club with a genteel, well bred air.

For Chief Devery has written it on pink slips that policemen must be polite. Mr. Devery inculcating manners is a pathetic figure, and somewhat sug-gests that other Turveydrop, John L. Sullivan. That master of deportment was once assisting at an exhibition of boxing, when some disturbance arose among the spectators. He came to the front of the stage and quelled it with words like these "Say, you blokes down dere wants to shut up and give us a rest. Now, I'm a gentleman, and yous is bums, and if any eternaly lost son of a sea cook of you makes any more noise I'll come down dere and

The fact is that even the worm will turn-Devery or any other worn—and policemen in this town have builted and beaten and insulted citizens till their complaints have annoyed the Chief, and that is where such goings on have to stop. Is it not written on pink paper? If it were written only on white paper it might mean no more than that citizens were no longer to be clubbed for asking the way to Flatbush-ave. Even if it were on green paper it might mean nothing further than that when an elderly clergyman protested against the brutality of a policeman toward a helpless and harmless citizen he should be cast into a dungeon for the night as gently as possible. But on pink paper it means that the policeman must say: "I have the honor, sir, to intimate to you that if you do not, within the next ten minutes, desist from beating your wife it will be my painful duty to beg you to accompany me to the headquarters of our precinct, where we shall take pleasure in making you as comfortable as possible for the night, and I trust, my dear sir, that you will accept this hint in the spirit in which it is intended and will not compel me to use that force the employment

"I weep for you," the walrus said,
"I deeply sympathize."
With sobs and tears he sorted out.

Before his streaming eyes.

It is to be hoped that citizens will appreciate the Chief's intentions and meet his efforts half way, by refraining from resisting arrest in any untidy man-Mistakes have been made on both sides; it is time that something serious was done, and it is good to know that the order has been written on

DEUTSCHLAND IN A GALE.

William Wood, sometimes called "the Father of DELAYED BY HEAVY WEATHER AND LOSS OF A SEAMAN-ANDREW CARNEGIE NOT ON BOARD.

> The record breaker of the Hamburg-American Line, the steamship Deutschland, arrived here yesterday from Hamburg twelve hours and four minutes behind her record of five days, twelve hours and twenty-nine minutes. Her arrival so many hours behind time was evidently due to the stormy weather she encountered on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, which required that her engines be reduced from their usual speed of seventy-seven revolutions to sixtyeight. She was also delayed by the loss overboard on Wednesday of a young seaman, Eugene Sarascim. He was washed overboard about dusk on that day.

> The steamer was immediately turned in her course, and she circled around for the purpose of saving him, if possible. After spending twenty minutes in this manner a lifeboat was lowered and the search continued for fifteen min> utes longer. He was not seen. The watch of which he was a member had been ordered upon the forecastle deck to straighten things out. Saraseim was the first man to reach the deck. The steamship suddenly pitched and he went overboard. Boxes for contributions for the seaman's mother were placed in different parts of the vessel. The contents had not been counted when the steamer docked, and the amount of the contributions was not

The time of the voyage from Cherbourg to Sandy Hook was 6 days and 33 minutes. One could see by her soot begrimed funnels as she came up the Bay listing to starboard slightly, that she had been burning coal at a furious rate. The vessel was docked about 6 o'clock.

Andrew Carnegle, who was expected on the steamer, was not on board. Mr. Cronemeyer, representing the agents of the line in this city, boarded the steamer soon after she had docked. He said that it would be possible for Mr. Carnegle to pay $8,000 for accommodations, as he was reported to have done, as his party numbers seventeen. He thought the report that $200,000 had been paid for passage on the steamer was overestimated. The report that there had been gambling on board could not be verified.

THE PASSING THRONG.

Henry Birrell, member of the County Committee from the XXIst Assembly District and sergeant-atarms of the Republican National A POINT IN committee, said yesterday, in THE ELEC- speaking of the law governing elec-TION LAW. tions in this State: "I have been asked the question a number of times as to whether the thirty days which it is necessary to reside in an election district must precede the day of election or the day of registra-tion. They precede Election Day. The Election law of 1896. Section 26, reads: 'A qualified elector is a male citizen, who is, or will be on the day of election, twenty-one years of age, who has been an inhabitant of the State for one year next pre ceding the election, and for the last four months a resident of the city, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote. If a naturalized citizen, he must, in addition to the foregoing provisions, have been naturalized at least ninety days prior to the elec-naturalized at least ninety days prior to the election.

"It is a point each voter should remember, if he is a newcomer in an election district. The election falls this year on November 6, and a man may take up his residence and vote in any election district he pleases, providing he has a thirty days residence therein, and has compiled with the other provisions of the law. The days of registry in 1960 are Friday, October 12, Saturday, October 13; Friday, October 19, and Saturday, October 2k. You can see that if a man unfamiliar with the law should take up his residence in a district on, say, October 3, he might easily become confused when he came to register. Then only from ten to seventeen days would have elapsed, and if the question were put to him, 'How long have you been in the district?' he would naturally answer ten or seventeen days, as the case might be. If the registration officers did not help him out it would be only too easy for him to be then confused and to go away without registering, under the impression that he could not legally vote."

"Every one should bear in mind," continued Mr Birrell, "that the law means exactly what it says. and the thirty days required are those immediately preceding No-WITHIN THE vember 6. Another thing the ELECTION elector wants to remember is, that DISTRICT. he is free to change his residence as often as he pleases, providing only that he keeps within the election district All that it is necessary to do if you have changed your residence is to make oath to the change beyour residence is to make oath to the change before the proper officer, either on one of the days of registry or on Election Day itself. It may not be out of place in this connection to call the attention of all Republicans to the importance of registering in order that they may vote. They should do it at the first possible moment, in order to make it certain, and that no slip may occur.

Every vote is of importance to the Republican party this year, and the full party vote should be go out."

W. J. Crawford, of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the hest known business men of Northern Ohio and a partner of Colonel Myron T. Her-FEELS rick, called at National Republican Headquarters Saturday, Mr. Craw-ford, while a business man, is also an able political organizer, and is SURE OF now in charge of important work in the organiza-tion of Ohio for McKinley. He said:

"We have reached the point in the Ohlo canvase where we can say with the assurance of certainty that President McKinley will carry Ohlo by a larger majority than he did four years ago, and his majority then was 50,000. Cuyahoga County, which contains the city of Cleveland, the largest which contains the city of Cleveland, the largest city in the State, will give McKiniey at least 16,000 majority. In 1856 Cleveland was a hotbed of Bryanism. McKiniey carried the county by 3,000 and Bryan received 53,000 votes, the largest Democratic vote ever cast in Cleveland. But times have changed, and Bryan is no more a hero. Last year the Democratic vote fell to 7,000. Last year Cleveland gave Golden Rule Jones, the 'non-partisan' candidate for Governor, 36,000 votes, or about 15 per cent of his entire vote in the State. Of course, the great bulk of that vote came from Democrats. I confess that we were confronted with a serious problem a month ago regarding this Jones vote; but Mr. Jones's declaration for Bryan has been a godsend to us and assures a Republican votes as a non-partisan, but not as a Democrat. Northern Ohio, and especially the city of Cleveland, has had unexampled prosperity during the last three years. We are making a purely educational campaign, and partisan, but not as a Democrat. And sepecially the city of Cleveland, has had unexampled prosperity during the last three years. We are making a purely educational campaign, and there will be little of brass bands and parading. The Democrats in our section seem to be hopelessly divided and fighting like Klikenny cars.
